How FASEB Helps You

By joining together with other scientists and engineers, you contribute to an effective and highly respected voice for biomedical research. Our size, breadth, and consensus policy deliberations guarantee that we will have a seat at the table when research policy decisions are made. Below is a list of benefits you receive from your society's membership in FASEB.

Legislative Action Center

FASEB encourages society members to play an active role in advocating for issues relevant to their fields. We provide the advocacy tools and information you need for contacting elected officials and the media.

The FASEB Journal

FASEB publishes the most cited biology journal worldwide, and FASEB society members receive a 60 percent discount on the individual rate for online subscriptions. www.fasebj.org

Meetings & Conferences

FASEB fosters collaboration and networking among scientists by supporting and managing their meetings. FASEB also organizes and facilitates a series of Summer Research Conferences each year.

Insurance Programs

FASEB insurance programs are available for a broad variety of needs, including: Term Life, Disability Income, Customized Major Medical, AD&D, & Short-Term Medical.

FASEB Washington Update

By signing up for our electronic newsletter, The Washington Update, you will receive news and analyses of federal science policy. We will also notify you when key decisions are being made so that you can make your views heard.

Directory of Members

Enjoy instant access to a vast database of your professional colleagues across the country as well as around the world. The directory is an essential reference for the life science community.

Career Resources

Our Career Center offers a variety of development opportunities and services for our members. Additionally, we promote diversity through our Minority Access to Research Careers program.

Credit Card Program

Apply for a FASEB credit card to meet your specific needs: Platinum Plus (or Preferred) MasterCard and Platinum Plus (or Preferred) VISA. Gold Option and Reserve Lines of Credit are also available.
